

xerogel

A term used for the dried out open structures which have passed a gel stage during preparation (e.g. silica gel); and also for dried out compact macromolecular gels such as gelatin or rubber.

1972, 31, 606